

Last week, we the Google Fit app update with a frequently requested feature: real-time tracking of your walks, runs, and bike rides. Now, the Google Fit app for Android Wear will soon receive the same feature in an update as announced by the official Android Twitter account

. You'll be able to check the distance you've ran as well as how long you've been running within the Wear app.

Read more