

The Samsung Galaxy J7 has finally met its match. The long-standing champion has been dethroned by the Lenovo K4 Note, whose rise to the top took only 2 weeks. And for the first time in a long while the Galaxy J7 is the only J-series Samsung on the podium - the J5 has been pushed off by the newly-launched Xiaomi Redmi 3. The Galaxy S6 has kept its 5th spot from last week, but the Xiaomi Redmi Note 3 is dangerously close, so nothing's guaranteed for next week. The occasional podium finisher Galaxy J2 has slipped yet another spot compared to week 1, and is now in 7th. A similar faith has been shared by the Galaxy Grand Prime, which we find in 8th this week. The Apple iPhone 5s, which we thought was a one-off entry last week, seems to be here to stay, occupying the same 9th position. The Galaxy Note5 is the last to make the chart, with the Galaxy A5 giving it a hard time, but not hard enough.
