

Android and iOS use a 64-bit architecture for a quite a long time now. Devices with Windows Phone/Mobile are still running 32-bit OS even on 64-bit compatible hardware. Microsoft wants to change it swiftly, as there is a job opening that suggests that. More in the news.

Read more