

Sony Xperia C4 has unexpectedly received an update to Android 5.1. This MediaTek-based device was expected to receive an update straight to Android 6.0, but its users have noticed that devices are getting an update notification to version 5.1. Smash an update button if you have this device in your pocket. There might be an OTA waiting for you!

Read more